Business Critical Information

Business critical information includes key details that can significantly impact the performance and reputation of a prospective business. Here's a short synopsis of some crucial elements:

01

Text Enabled Business Number

We detected that your listed phone number is NOT SMS-capable. 9 out of 10 people want to use messaging to interact with businesses! It's critical that businesses offer text messaging as a communication channel for their customers.

02

Website Hosting

We couldn't detect your website hosted on any major providers such as WordPress or LeadConnector. Hosting choice directly impacts SEO, site speed, and uptime. Shifting to a reliable, performance-optimized platform can improve search rankings and overall site experience.

03

Chat Widget on Website

We detected that your business website does not have an active chat widget enabled. You might be missing out on valuable opportunities for enhanced customer engagement and immediate support.

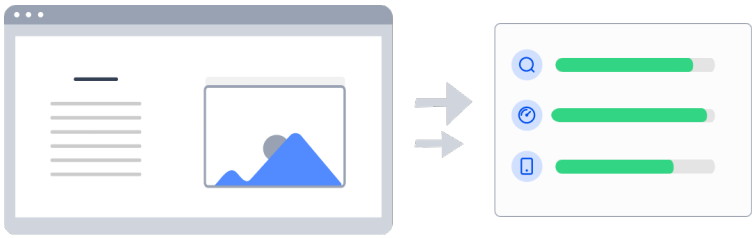

04

Review Replies

It seems like you have only replied to 40% of the reviews analyzed. Research shows that 89% of consumers tend to prefer local businesses that actively engage with reviews.

0% Techno Stack Analysis

We couldn't find a website linked to your Google Business Profile or Local Listings. Without it, your business may be missing out on local traffic, trust signals, and visibility in search — including results powered by AI.

Website Missing - Hurting Local Visibility

Google Business Profile

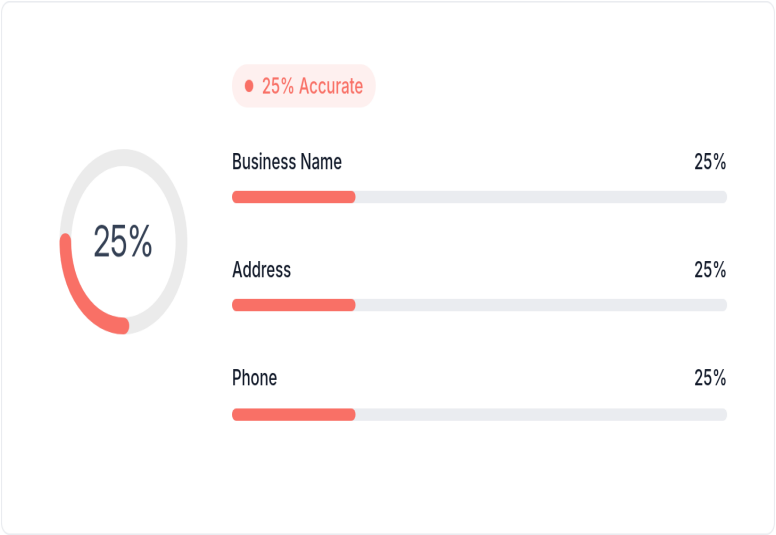

This Google business profile is currently active and visible to customers .

25% Listings

Having accurate listings across all platforms is crucial to your business as it enhances visibility and builds credibility among customers.

Your business La Bandera BTX listings are grouped into three categories across online platforms. Exact matches (3) means all NAP information (Name, Address, Phone) match. Partial matches (0) means some of the NAP details match. No matches (9) means none of the NAP details match. Keeping your listings accurate and consistent helps improve visibility, build customer trust, and grow your business.

Ouch

Your online listings are inaccurate. This means your potential customers would not be able to find you. Your competitor with a better online listing is taking all the revenue you deserve.

What Clients Are Saying About You

Negative Reviews

Negative reviews can tarnish a business's reputation and erode customer trust. A string of negative feedback can deter potential customers from engaging with your business. Negative reviews can lead to decreased sales, as potential customers may choose competitors with better reviews and ratings.

"I bought the pizzadilla from La Bandera BTX about a year ago and it was amazing. I understand prices go up, but this time the size was way smaller than before. Back then the whole pizzadilla would pretty much fill the entire box, and now it's noticeably smaller for the price. The flavor is still good, but the portion difference was disappointing. "

"The menu looks so appetizing but when you get the actual food is very disappointing. The ramen birria lacks a lot of flavor(it would be cheaper to just eat a ramen at home for less than two dollars and actual taste good)the tacos de papa only have one little strip like I get it but just a tiny strip is robbery. The only good thing was the burger m ..."

"I heard many great things about this place so I decided to try it. Their menu mainly revolves around birria but they do sell tacos and other plates. The portions are very well served and you for sure will fill up with one serving. Everything tasted authentic and homemade— definitely worth the visit! "
